Expect Candidacy Of Independent Will Be Encouraged.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—Enrollment of the progressive party's candidate—Robert M. La Follette and Burton K. Wheeler, was recommended to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today by the federation's special non partisan committee.

Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the federation, headed the committee that urged support of the La Follette ticket.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation and James O'Connell also signed the report.

Introduction of the report, followed by an appeal by Gompers for its adoption was the chief business at the initial session of the executive council of members.

The report analyzed fully the platforms adopted by the three major parties, Republican, Democratic and Progressive. The platforms were compared with "labor's demands" which the federation submitted to each of the nation conventions.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor is in session here today to determine which way it will try to throw the organization's national strength in the November elections.

It has been indicated by the various groups on the council board that the candidacy of Senator La Follette will be encouraged either by a straightforward endorsement or by some other means.

The method of sanctioning the La Follette movement so as not to commit labor to any open break with either of the two major parties or pledge itself irrevocably to any party, is the chief question to be fought over by the 11 members of the council, it was said.

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, gave no open intimation as to what decision would be reached except a statement that the federation would "abide by its time-honored policy of nonpartisan action." La Follette leaders in Washington, however, were given to understand definitely before the council came here, that encouragement would be given to his campaign by the assembly of labor leaders.

The La Follette platform comes nearest to blending with the desires of labor, say the leaders, who already have found flaws in the candidacies of Coolidge and Davis. Congressmen and senators running for reelection will, however, be openly endorsed on a nonpartisan basis.

According to word reaching the leaders of the Progressive party at Washington headquarters, endorsement of the La Follette-Wheeler independent presidential ticket will result from the meeting of the executive council of the labor federation here. Sessions of the council will continue for a week or 10 days.

Gompers in his statement said: "The executive council considers candidates and platforms on the basis of their service, past and promised, to the wage earners and the great masses of the people of our country. We shall commit ourselves to no political party as partisans to a party."

FORCED BY FLAMES TO DROP TO DEATH

New York, Aug. 1.—After clinging to the window of a blazing apartment at 102 West 92nd Street, flames finally forced Mrs. Daniel Waugh, wife of the new rector of St. Agnes Episcopal Church, to leap to the street. She was killed instantly.

More than a dozen other persons were injured in the fire.

PERSHING IS BACK AFTER LONG TOUR

Washington, Aug. 1.—General John J. Pershing, chief of staff, of the army, returned to the capital today after an extended tour of Europe, where he inspected the American cemeteries. He will assume his duties at the war department immediately, taking personal charge of plans for the national mobilization next month.

ELKS CONTRIBUTE TO LORAIN RELIEF

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—With the governor's relief commission scheduled for 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when arrangements will be made for the wind up of the campaign for $600,000, announcement was made that the Lorain fund had been swelled $5,000 by the contribution of the Grand Lodge of Elks.

Newark, O., Aug. 1.—William Fry, aged 34, was scalded to death when he stumbled and fell into a tub of hot water in the Fry home. The lad's screams attracted his mother's attention, who snatched him from the tub and died shortly afterwards.

JUDGE RULES ALIENISTS MAY GIVE EVIDENCE IN LOEB-LEOPOLD CASE

Decision Launches Battle of Medical Experts After Being Held Up During Long Debate On Subject Of Competency.

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 1.—Judge John Caverly flung wide the door today for a dozen alienists to submit evidence of the "mental disease" "functional character," which they say afflicts both Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, and is largely responsible for their cool murder of little Bobby Franks.

It is upon the testimony of these alienists that the lawyers defending the two students will seek to save them from the hangman's noose.

After listening for hours and hours to legal wrangling over the admissibility of the alienists' testimony, Judge Caverly ruled that their conclusions could be submitted "for what they are worth."

Under his decision, the psychiatrists will be allowed to testify that Leopold and Loeb are "queer" that they are dreamers, that they have disordered intellects, in short, that they are almost anything short of legally insane. Even the experts will not be permitted to say they are legally insane for the boys confessed and the court accepted their sanity when they pleaded guilty to the murder.

The battle of the alienists delayed more than two days, got under way immediately.

Dr. William A. White, a distinguished psychiatrist of Washington, who is superintendent of the government's biggest insane hospital there—St. Elizabeths—looked the stand at once.

Judge Caverly's decision was given after a half hour's hearing this morning, after State's Attorney Crowe got into action with a short sarcastic speech, in which he charged Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, with trying to make his client appear as "little boys stealing jam, instead of cold blooded murderers."

When Crowe sat down, Judge Caverly leaned back in his chair and said that "under the statutes, the court deems it his duty to hear evidence in mitigation."

"The objection of the state is overruled," said Judge Caverly, "and the witness may proceed."

Chicago, Aug. 1.—A request for "mitigating punishment" for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks was made by Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense.

In his appeal before Justice Caverly, Darrow assailed State's Attorney Robert Crowe. "All that the prosecution has been able to think of is death," said Darrow. "At no time has the state given thought to justice. If I thought that by hanging these boys it would prevent murder in the future, I would say let them hang."

Darrow declared there was not a judge in Cook county who would sentence any man to hang without first looking into his mental condition. He said he made it very plain that youth itself constituted a "mitigating circumstance," and added:

"I know that when a man goes on the bench he is supposed to be more or less blinded; I know that he is supposed to forget all his human experiences. He is supposed to forget that he was a boy; forget how he acted as a boy; forget how he fell down under the burden of human responsibility of life. I know that many judges are like that, but I have the confidence that this court is not like that."

Jacob Franks, father of the 14-year-old murdered schoolboy, listened to Darrow's argument, a faint smile on his face, his head nodding as though in approval, as though he did not want his son's slayers to die on the gallows.

The defense took much courage from the statement of Justice Caverly that a few months ago he had a somewhat similar case and sentenced the slayer to life in prison. The case was that of Sam Rosen, who killed his wife.

"Court could and did appoint an alienist to examine him, and when the court was told the man was not insane and was responsible for his acts, I permitted the plea of guilty to stand and sentenced him to life imprisonment," Justice Caverly pointed out.

Rosen had pleaded guilty and begged for hanging. Justice Caverly appointed an alienist to examine him. The report showed Rosen technically sane, but in a bad physical condition.

Justice Caverly holds he not only has the right, but it is his duty, to hear any evidence dealing with the mental condition of the prisoners.

"We admit the boys committed murder. We admit they are legally sane. But we contend that the court should know the state of mind of the defendants in order to give them a fair sentence." This is the statement of attorneys for the defense in reply to each fresh attack by the state.

"No evidence tending to show the boys are insane can be introduced without throwing the question into the hands of a jury," State's Attorney Crowe holds. "If the boys are insane or partially insane, they cannot be held guilty."

The court's reply is that he will not listen to any evidence tending to show insanity, but only to such testimony that deals with a diseased functioning of the mind. Crowe holds that the defense can appeal any sentence imposed by the court not to its liking, while the prosecution can not appeal.

London, Aug. 1.—Sensational rises in the wheat market in the United States have been followed by equal increases in the price of wheat and flour in England. Flour in English markets has jumped 10 shillings a sack since July 1, and a total of 17 shillings since May, causing apprehension throughout the country. The standard four-pound British loaf, already increased from the old 8 penny price, will jump to 10 pence next Monday. To the English farmer wheat growing is profitable for the first time since the war, but to the great majority of the population, the wage earners, the high price of bread means only added strain on the family budget.

COOLIDGE HAS TARIFF REPORT ON SUGAR PROBE

Action Now Up To President—Inquiry Began In 1923.

Washington, Aug. 1.—President Coolidge has received from the tariff commission its finding in the probe of the sugar tariff.

By direction of President Harding the investigation was begun in March, 1923. The inquiry covered Cuba and other sources of foreign supply. It is said that the finding consists of a majority report, holding the present rate unjustifiedly high, and a minority report, holding that existing duties accurately represent differences in cost of production at home and abroad. It now remains for the president to determine what action shall be taken, for, under the law, he alone can make changes in the duties within a maximum of 50 per cent up or down, and effective 30 days after their proclamation.

Senator La Follette, independent candidate for president, recently charged that representatives of the sugar interests had been working to delay completion of the commission's work. The present sugar rate is 2.20 cents a pound, except on sugar imported from Cuba, which is required to pay only 1.76 cents per pound. The Cuban rate results from a differential allowed that country pursuant to treaty arrangements. These rates compare with 1.68 cents a pound in the Payne-Aldrich law, which carried a rate of 1.35 cents for Cuban sugar and 1.25 cents in the Underwood law, which gave a flat 1-cent a pound duty on imports from Cuba.

It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the bloating and indigestion; it is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Notice to Xenia Telephone Patrons

IN the interest of efficiency in your telephone service, a new system of handling calls from Xenia to the following communities has been inaugurated:

Cedarville	Lebanon	Washington Court House
Dayton	New Burlington	Yellow Springs
Jamestown	Springfield	Wilmington

After August 1st, it will not be necessary for a Xenia subscriber to ask for "long distance" when placing a call to a telephone subscriber in any of the above places. Under the new system, you may give the telephone number of the party in any one of the above communities, with whom you wish to speak, to your local Xenia operator and she will complete the call. In case you do not know the telephone number of the party desired, you can obtain it by asking for the Information Operator, giving her the name and address of the party you wish to call. She will give you the number, and then you may give it to your local operator, who will complete the connection for you.

This new system will make for greater speed in your calls to the towns mentioned above, because it eliminates the necessity of going through long distance. The rates for this service will be the same as the present station-to-station toll rates.

If you have occasion to make frequent calls to any of the above towns, and desire a list of the telephone numbers of the parties with whom you wish to speak, you can obtain it by calling at the Commercial Office of the Telephone Company, 54 West Main Street.

If you desire further information on the new service, it will be gladly furnished.

THE CARE-FREE COLUMN

COPYRIGHT 1924 by C. W. C.

It is hard to believe, yet true, that the hardest task in the home, the work of washing clothes, has been made care-free.

Women are not mechanics and should not be encumbered with the care of a complicated machine, along with the weekly wash.

Things for Women to Consider

Above all a washer should be simple. Free from continual mechanical adjustments. Nothing to watch or bring trouble; nothing to oil or clean, and noiseless and non-vibrating when in operation.

The perfect big copper tub of the Coffield rocks silently on airplane bearings nearly a hundred times a minute, turning over the clothes within the tub many times. Surging suds are forced through each garment, taking every atom of dirt out of the sheer as well as the stouter pieces. The clothes do not come in contact with a single piece of machinery; there is not a thing in the tub but the wash.

For a Few Days Only

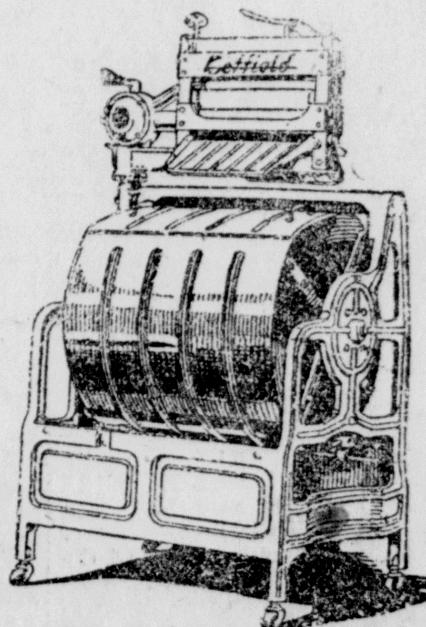

with every purchase of a

Coffield

The CARE-FREE WASHER

we will give absolutely FREE

24 large packages of Rinso

this offer is good only until Saturday

It positively cannot be extended beyond this week. To avoid disappointment phone, write or come in at once. This is an unusual offer, and you owe it to yourself not to delay.

Remember, you do not have to pay one penny until you have first tried the Coffield. We will send a Coffield Washer to your home for demonstration without the slightest cost or obligation to you. You can see for yourself what a magnificent washer it is and how beautifully it washes all the clothes. Then, if you decide to buy, you pay only a few dollars cash and the balance in convenient payments, and you get 24 large packages of Rinso free. Act now!

THE 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS' VIEWS AUGUST FIRST

If the Republican convention at Cleveland did not adopt a formal resolution of respect for the memory of Woodrow Wilson, who had died still more recently than Warren G. Harding, no one will be likely to think that the omission was intentional or significant. Mr. Harding had died in office, while Mr. Wilson was a private citizen. Nevertheless, it would have been a graceful and proper thing if the Republicans at Cleveland had recognized the passing away of an eminent American leader who had served eight years in the presidency. There was hardly a speech of any length in the Democratic convention that did not sound the praises of Wilson and uphold his ideals. He has become, for the Democrats, a leader in the realm of lofty aims for America in its relations with all mankind. When, however, it came to the question of adopting an explicit resolution demanding that the United States should enter the League of Nations—precisely the resolution that Wilson himself would have made the chief one in the entire platform—the convention after a special debate rejected this plank by a vote of 742 1-2 to 353 1-2.

It was not a question—so the argument ran—of the end to be attained, but of the best way to proceed. The convention accepted Wilson's ideal of an international league for the prevention of war, but it was no longer prepared to make a partisan issue out of the demand for our immediate entrance into the present League. Mr. Wilson is not here to urge his views, and Republicans as well as Democrats can afford to estimate his career at its best. Jefferson and Madison saw many things in a way that deeply offended the political conservatism of Hamilton or Marshall. But we are now proud of them all, and have no reason to perpetuate their animosities. The Republicans may well set Roosevelt on a pedestal, and the Democrats do themselves credit in canonizing Wilson, as they long ago made Jefferson a patron saint. It is easy to see now that, if Mr. Wilson had been a little more tactful, and a little less isolated in his habit of reaching determinations, we should have ratified the treaty promptly with a few mild Senate reservations that everybody would by this time have forgotten. But the situation as it was in 1919 will be restudied in days when fair-mindedness prevails over partisanship or prejudice; and then the force as well as the sincerity of Woodrow Wilson's stern demand for the ratification of the treaty will be apparent enough.

MR. HUGHES GOES TO ENGLAND

Secretary Hughes sailed on July 12 in company with a large number of American lawyers who were outward bound for London to attend the annual meeting of the American Bar Association which had decided this year to hold its sessions on the soil of England, from which came our common law, our political principles, and much of our government tradition and mechanism. Two days before he sailed, at a preliminary meeting in Philadelphia, Mr. Hughes was accorded the honor of election as president of the American Bar Association. It was intimated among the diplomats and journalists of Europe that the distinguished American Secretary of State was to come into direct consultation with members of the British Government and other European statesmen regarding the application of the Dawes report and also—probably—regarding a future conference on submarines, gas and aircraft. President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes had been in consultation with General Dawes and others; and undoubtedly the Secretary had sailed with some very definite views as to further American action. Mr. Hughes is a great lawyer, who for some years was a great judge on our highest bench; and he has the gift of thorough analysis and lucid statement that makes him particularly impressive in the treatment of complicated matters. Furthermore he has a rare talent for economic and financial questions.

VOTERS BEWARE OF SOFT MONEY

The country takes for granted the political sanity of President Coolidge and John W. Davis. Their records speak for them. The qualities of their minds are known. Both stand on solid ground; both have demonstrated common sense as well as governing sense. In neither of them, nor in General Dawes, is there any threat to the well-being and prosperity of these United States. That cannot be said of Governor Bryan. His presence on the Democratic ticket is constant reminder of the weird doctrines of Bryanism. His "personal platform," used in his race for renomination for Governor last April, is full of heresies. The Nebraskan advocated the nationalization of oil and coal. He opposed what he called the "deflation policy" of the Federal Reserve Bank, and thereby woke the echoes of the ancient "soft-money" and free-silver Bryanism of 1896. The possibility of his succeeding to the presidency is not calculated to soothe the nerves of industry.

GIRLS! WHITER SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE
The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any drugist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

EIGHTEEN YEARS TO THIS VERY DAY

Eighteen years to this very day Sailed Nellie and I for the Far-Away; Eighteen years from the Port of Youth; Searching the seas for the light of truth; Harboring here for a little while, Now becalmed by a gentle smile, Keeping the course, and losing the way, Eighteen years to this very day, Eighteen years on the sea of life Sailing the good ship Man and Wife; Springs and summers and autumns gold, And the long, harsh days of the winter's cold—All we have weathered and all we've known, Taking from God what winds have kept, Keeping our love, let come what may, Eighteen years to this very day.

Eighteen years since we cleared from port, Ah, but those eighteen years seem short; Many the dreams and the hopes back then, Many that never will come again, Yet in the hold of our ship we see Many a joy that has come to be, Richer we are than we were, I say, Eighteen years to this very day, Eighteen years we have grieved and smiled, Suffered and lost and been reconciled; Strength we have had for our days of care, Eighteen years to this very day.

Boiled Mayonnaise Dressing for Fish, Meat, or Vegetable Salads: Put into a standard measuring cup two tablespoons of salad oil, two tablespoons of cornstarch, one tablespoon each of lemon juice and vinegar and one teaspoon of salt, then fill up the cup with skimmed milk (this will be about one-half cupful of milk). Place this mixture over a moderate heat and when it reaches the boiling point, let it continue to simmer till thick like sauce. Stir often to avoid lumping. Then cool and add one-half cup more of salad oil, one-half cup of pure olive oil, one-fourth teaspoon of black pepper and one-third teaspoon of mustard. (Note: By "salad oil" I mean a mixture of equal quantities of olive oil and any good vegetable oil such as peanut-oil, cottonseed-oil or corn-oil.)

French Dressing: Beat together the following ingredients: three tablespoons of olive oil, one tablespoon of vinegar, one-third teaspoon of salt, a few grains of black pepper, and a few grains of paprika. Use this dressing on acid fruits and any other kinds of salad which are not too rich and oily in themselves.
Thousand Island Dressing: Rub one hard-boiled egg through a sieve and add two tablespoons of finely chopped raw onion, one small cooked beet finely chopped, one-half cup of Mayonnaise salad dressing (the manufactured bottled variety is excellent), one tablespoon of Chili sauce pressed through a sieve, and four tablespoons of whipped cream. (Note: For ordinary use the whipped cream may be omitted, but for guest meals it is desirable. Use this kind of dressing on hearts of lettuce, or on tender romaine.)
Inexpensive Boiled Dressing: Mix together six tablespoons of flour, one teaspoon of dry mustard (or the mustard may be omitted entirely), one teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of sugar. Put this dry mixture into the top of your double boiler with one tablespoon of juice from a raw onion (to obtain this, put raw onions through a food chopper and catch the juice which drains from it), and also add two tablespoons of butter and the yolks of two eggs well beaten; as it heats, over boiling water, add two cups of sweet milk gradually. Then add one and one-half cups of weak vinegar and stir till thickened again. This may be kept in the refrigerator, covered, for one week. It is an excellent dressing to use on foods which are rich in themselves and which therefore do not need the oil in a French Dressing or in a Mayonnaise Dressing. (For instance, use it on any vegetable or fruit salad.)

BACKGROUND

Before the painter begins to touch his soul to his picture he works to get the proper background.

The thing that makes a home lovely and attractive is its background.

The song of a bird somehow sounds sweeter in a background of thick trees and dense underbrush. And the chance flower, hid away in a clump of weeds or grass, somehow bobs out into the world with more wonder and beauty.

Success and the ability to rise above defeat and from under heavy sorrow, disappointment from a series of set backs over a term of years, has to do only with strong characters who have a background of courage, belief and vision.

You must put a background into life or else life grows feathery and you become as one lost at sea with out chart or compass.

How often must each of us fall into our background, take new heart, establish our position and set out all over again.

Sometimes it is nothing more than the rising strains of youth, like distant music, that fill our imagination and compel us to go on.

And then, again, perhaps the long ago uttered words of some one in whom we believed or who believed in us come back to us to inspire our best afresh.

Training, teaching, hard and bitter experience over the years must be ours until, when the dire hour arrives, we find ourselves equipped for victory.

There is nothing in life more important than background. Without it a man becomes a wanderer and a listless drone.

THIS ROLLIN COUPE FREE

This beautiful Rollin Coupe is the capital prize to be presented to the State Fair Queen.

Who Will be Ohio's State Fair Queen?

CHOSEN as the first Queen of the Ohio State Fair, some one of Ohio's fair daughters is to be singled out by a great popularity contest to play the leading part in Ohio's greatest annual affair—the Ohio State Fair!

Showered with honors and attentions, as the official guest of the State Fair management and of the State, she will have the leading part in each day's program of events. She will receive the beautiful Rollin Coupe shown above—an Ohio-made car and one of the finest on the market—in addition to other valuable gifts, and will be provided with the finest of accommodations during State Fair week without cost.

The official coronation of the winner of the contest will be the biggest feature of the biggest day's program. She will play the leading role in the pageant "Queen Fashion," the most magnificent of all the spectacles planned. She will award the governor's cup at the races and sit in the Governor's box at the Horse Show. She will be royally entertained every moment of the day.

Every young woman of Ohio sixteen years old or over is eligible to receive this great honor, now bestowed for the first time. The choice will be made by popular ballot, the vote of friends and neighbors of the contestant determining the result. Whether from city, town, village or farm, every young woman who enters will have an equal chance. The only entrance requirement is that she be a resident of Ohio and of the county from which she enters.

The 1924 Ohio State Fair will surpass any yet held. Larger and finer exhibits, magnificent pageants, free vaudeville, horse races, automobile races, evening horse shows and other attractions will make this the finest program ever planned. And in all things the State Fair Queen will be the center of all eyes!

Any young woman with the sincere desire to win can attain this honor. A little effort expended over a two-week period is all that is required. Results alone will count and no candidate will have a greater advantage than any other.

The contest opens officially August 4 and closes at midnight August 20. Entries are being received now—send in your name on the coupon below and become an official contestant!

Address coupons to office of G. R. Lewis, Manager of State Fair, State House Annex, Columbus, O. Additional information will be provided by this office on request.

DONAHEY DEFENDS POLICY IN BUYING MORE BRICK PLANTS

Columbus, Aug. 1.—The Democratic state administration's policy in the purchase of additional brick plants for state employment of prisoners in penal institutions is vigorously defended by Governor Donahey, in a letter addressed to R. N. Labar, president of the Face Brick Dealers' association of America, who had wired a protest against the purchase of the Roseville plant and asked for a conference with the governor on the subject.

Donahey in his letter cited article 3, section 41, of the state constitution, providing for the occupation and employment of prisoners, and the disposition of products of their labor to the state or any political subdivision thereof.

"I shall try to carry out the above mandate of our constitution with every power at my command," the governor wrote. "I am advocating additional brick and cement plants to be built or bought for the state in order that prisoners in our penal institutions who have wives and little children may have work and be paid a reasonable compensation that can be sent home to support their dependents. Under our present system such dependents are objects of charity, a condition not conducive to the making of good citizens out of children of convicts."

"The state has the legal right to place men behind the walls for the commission of crime, but it has not the moral right to keep these men in idleness, thereby destroying their own morale and depriving their wives and children of subsistence."

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

BERNARD MACFADDEN

Irregular teeth do not "occlude" properly—that is the grinding surfaces do not come together. Hence there is poor mastication of the food, and consequently a lowered power of digestion and assimilation. Hence again, a general deficiency in the development and "tone" of the entire body.

The bones and muscles of the jaws suffer also from this general malnutrition, and the teeth become even more irregular and lacking in their essential salts, as a consequence. The bones that support the teeth do not grow large enough to accommodate all of them in the normal position.

In some cases the jaw bones are so small that many of the teeth cannot find a place to come through at all, and they remain impacted in the jaw giving rise in later life to chronic neuralgias, headaches and many grave nervous and physical disorders.

Such a condition may even give rise to that agonizing condition known to doctors as the "douloureux". This is characterized by a twitching of the facial muscles on the side affected, accompanied by the most terrible pain known to human beings, with possible exception of angina pectoris. Or it may produce conditions which find their expressions in various reflex actions such as twitching of the muscles and limbs, or even such grave disorders as melancholia.

Again, the normal physiological relations between the mouth and the nose are also affected, causing a profound disturbance in the function of the breathing apparatus, and resulting in the narrowing of the air passages.

This causes mouth breathing.

The air enters the lungs improperly warmed, unfiltered and unmoistened. The blood is insufficiently supplied with oxygen. Shoulders become rounded, chest flat, faulty positions in standing and sitting are acquired, resulting in many cases, in spinal curvature.

Most serious of all, the brain does not develop properly, and the mentality of the child suffers.

Also, irregular teeth are kept clean with great difficulty, and the problem of repairing or replacing them later becomes more complex for the dentist.

W. B. BRYSON WELL QUALIFIED FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONER HE IS SEEKING

W. B. Bryson

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

W. B. Bryson, candidate for Greene County Commissioner, is not only a successful farmer and stock raiser but is an all-around business man, church worker and public spirited citizen.

He was born and reared in Greene County and has always made his home on a farm in this county. He received his early education in the local schools and attended the old Xenia Academy in the days of its prime. Later he attended Monmouth College, at Monmouth, Ill., and graduated from that institution. He has always been deeply interested in education and has been connected with the township and county board of education for the last twenty-five years. He was one of the first members of the County board.

He has been three times elected as a member of the State Legislature serving one term under Governor Willis and two terms under Governor Cox. He has the distinction of having had more bills passed under the Democratic administration than any other Republican representative during that term. During his last term in the legislature he was chairman of the County Affairs Committee, a committee that attended to much important legislation, more bills coming before this committee than any other committee in the legislature. He also served as vice president of the Agricultural Committee and as a member of the Highways Committee thus gaining an intimate knowledge of road affairs and other conditions that makes him particularly well fitted to take up the management of local county affairs.

At the present he is president of the Greene County Farm Bureau and prior to its organization was chairman of the Greene County Improvement Association.

Mr. Bryson is an active church worker and is prominent in the work of the United Presbyterian Church. He has served for some time as a member of the Committee for the Organization of United Presbyterian Boards, representing the second synod on this committee. He is a member of the Second United Presbyterian church in this city and in addition to his work in that church has served as superintendent of the non-sectarian Sunday School at Goes Station for over thirty-five years.

Mr. Bryson was chairman of the Finance Committee of the Pittsburgh Assembly of the U. P. Church in 1917, one of the biggest chairmanships in the church governing body.

While in the legislature, Mr. Bryson was always a member of the school and temperance committee and is much interested in the furtherance of the temperance cause.

Few men in the county have been more public spirited or have done more to advance the best interests of Greene County. For many years the fine bred racing stock raised at his Oaklawn farm brought fame to Greene County live stock. He served for many years as a member of the Greene County Fair Board and is well known in Fair circles throughout the state.

He is a firm believer in a policy of wise economy in public affairs. He believes in good roads, not in excessively expensive roads for the few, but in good roads for all. His wide and varied interests and his broad experience in public affairs make him unusually well fitted to faithfully serve the best interests of all classes in his administration of the business of the county if elected to the office for which he is a candidate.

I SPENT

Fortunes to win beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My mother was rich and ambitious. From my earliest years she urged me to enhance my beauty. She gave me her methods and formulas. Then she took me in a world-search for the newest beauty helps.

Most people know the results. I became a famous beauty, and for many years I remained the rage. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, I still play a beauty's part. I still look a girl of 19.

Since then I have made Edna Wallace Hopper. I have consulted noted experts and famous beauties everywhere. I have spent fortunes to find all the latest discoveries. So I believe that I now have the greatest beauty helps in existence. And certainly my results seem to prove that.

I have been induced to place these helps at every woman's call. Drugists and toilet counters everywhere supply them—the very helps I use. Thus every woman may obtain for a trifle the helps that cost me fortunes.

One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth. Lucile Lanterne, the famous Parisian beauty, first told me what it did. Now leading beauty experts the world over are advising this great formula.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter come out with it. A woman never knows what a clean skin means until she tries this Facial Youth.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth sells everywhere for 75 cents. Beauty experts charge up to $5 for the same effects. I shall be glad to send you a small bottle free if you mail this coupon. It will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. My Beauty Book comes with it. Cut out the coupon now.

OHIO BREEDERS OF GUERNSEY CATTLE TO HOLD FIELD DAY

The Annual Field Day and basket race of the Ohio Guernsey Breeders' Association is scheduled for August 14, 1924, to be held at Rasmelton Farm, just outside of Mansfield.

President W. O. Thompson, of the Ohio State University, Columbus, will be the only speaker. Coming as the head of the greatest university of the state, President Thompson is one of the big men of Ohio. A large number should hear him present the subject of "The Relation of Livestock to Rural Prosperity" as he sees it.

One of the interesting features of the day will be the presentation of two attendance prizes, which are twin bull calves, the dam of which recently sold for $300. The sire is Langwater Horatius, for which the donor of these calves, E. S. Burke, Chagrin Falls, Ohio, paid $16,000. Every person who attends will have a free chance on these calves.

There will be a parade and show of Richland County Guernseys with Prof. C. T. Conklin as judge. The program will begin at 11:00 a.m., with demonstrational judging contests for adults and children. Ribbons will be awarded in these contests and also at the cattle show.

The state association will have a booth at which a feature will be the dispensing, without cost, of Guernsey ice cream cones which will be given by the Richland County Guernsey Association.

The Rasmelton herd consists of more than 90 animals carrying some of the best blood lines of the breed. The farm is one of the show places of the state which visitors will enjoy. All dairymen of the state are invited to attend with their families and friends.

NEW LONG DISTANCE SYSTEM ELIMINATES SPECIAL OPERATOR

A simplified system of handling telephone calls from Xenia to nine communities in this immediate section of the state without going through the usual long distance channels was put into effect for Ohio Bell Telephone Company subscribers Friday, August 1, as announced by H. W. Cleaver, the company's commercial manager.

No change in rates is involved in the new system. It provides that any Xenia Ohio Bell subscriber may give the local Xenia operator the telephone number of the party desired in any of these nine communities and the call will be put through on special trunk circuits designed for that purpose.

The communities to which this service will extend are:

Cedarville, Dayton, Jamestown, Lebanon, New Burlington, Springfield, Washington Court House, Yellow Springs and Wilmington.

If the number of the party in any of these communities is not known to the calling Xenia subscriber, it can be ascertained by asking for "Information." When the "Information" operator is given the name of the party wanted, she will furnish it to the party calling. This number then may be given to the local Xenia operator and the call will be put through in the manner used for a local message.

Elimination of the necessity of going through long distance will mean greater speed and efficiency in handling telephone calls, according to Mr. Cleaver.

"The new system has already been put into effect in a number of cities," said Mr. Cleaver. "The rates will be the same as the present station-to-station toll rates. To those subscribers who have occasion to make frequent calls to several parties in the nine communities and desire a list of telephone numbers of those parties, we will be glad to furnish such a list, with any further information desired on the new service, if they will call at the company's commercial office."

"If the operator cannot reach the party called immediately, she will call back the calling Xenia subscriber later, when the party desired is reached. This new service is known as the Two-Number Toll Service, because the calls are placed by number instead of by name. The regular station-to-station toll rates, which are lower than when the subscriber asks for a particular person, apply. Our subscribers will find the Two-Number Toll Service speedy, efficient and inexpensive."

WORLD WAR BEGAN JUST 10 YEARS AGO

The greatest struggle in the world's history began ten years ago Friday, August 1, the World War.

This gigantic conflict, during which the lives of 7,450,000 men were lost, and an added expense of $186,000,000 in money was attached up until 1919, was begun on the first day of August, 1914, and combined the united forces of every leading nation in the world.

The United States entered the conflict April 6, 1917 by declaring war on Germany and the central powers. Over 800,000 Americans were under arms and about 2,000,000 soldiers were overseas when the armistice was signed, November 11, 1918.

Miss Mary Pontius of Miamisburg, O., is the guest of Mrs. Leon Schwab over the week end.

Miss Ethel Higley of the Hutchison and Gibney Company, has been enjoying a two weeks vacation from her work.

Mr. J. W. Gibney of the Hutchison and Gibney Company and Miss Mina St. John, buyer of the ready-to-wear department are leaving Sunday for New York to buy fall stock.

Mrs. A. C. Huston, Miss Olive Huston, Mr. Howell Huston and Miss Whitington, have spent the week at Russell Point.

MODISH MITZI—Three Quarter Length Coats

By Jay V. Jay

Eleanor is wearing a new chintz coat. It is banded with plain color linen and it is lined with crepe de chine. It is just as good to wear to the country club as to play ball on the beach in.

Polly is wearing a coat of a plain linen with bands of a gay rich chintz on the collar sleeves and made to form the pockets. There is also a wide band of it repeated at the edge of the coat.

This is a back view of one of the smartest coats on the beach. The style is somewhat on the Chinese order with a coolie collar. The material is a hand blocked linen.

And here comes Mitzi, modish as ever in her coat which is of a hand loomed worsted. It is a loose, wrap style. It looks very smart when it flaps in the wind or when it is fast.

The Western Union Ministerial Institute that was held with the Third Baptist Church, this city, beginning Tuesday morning, was one of the best in the history of the institute.

The Rev. L. H. Ingraham, D. D. President, took charge in his accustomed manner and throughout the entire session topical questions of vital importance were discussed, among which were "Sanctification and its Meaning," discussed by the Rev. H. O. Mason, pastor of Park Avenue, Piqua, and "Ministerial Ethics," by the Rev. L. R. Mitchell of Lima, Ohio. The educational sermon by the Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Cincinnati, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock opened the Western Union Association proper, with the Rev. J. T. Smith of Dayton, as moderator in the chair.

Nearly one hundred messengers from the various churches in the district were present, also a great number of visitors from the other associations in the state. Among the many distinguished persons who addressed the sessions, were the Rev. C. T. Isom of Columbus, executive secretary of General Association (Baptist of Ohio), Mrs. Georgia Miller, of Cincinnati, O., president of Woman's Work and E. H. Loggins of Columbus, president of the Laymen's League work of the state.

Also the Rev. O. M. Locust of this city, the Missionary sermon. The Rev. R. J. Fleming, the annual sermon on woman's work, the Rev. C. T. Isom, educational.

These sermons were well prepared and delivered. The Moderator the Rev. T. J. Smith, delivered Wednesday afternoon, his annual message which was brimful of helpful suggestions and greater interest urged among the ministry in this progressive age. The program for Thursday morning was devoted mainly to Woman's Work and a special business session was held at the Zion Baptist Church where Sister M. E. Harris presided together with the co-workers of the State, Mrs. Georgia Miller and others.

The program outlined the work for many new phases looking forward to the new five year program to be outlined at the annual General Association in October with the Second Baptist Church, Springfield, Ohio.

The program was proficient in every respect. The next annual session will be held with the New Hope Baptist Church, Middletown, Ohio before the first Lord's Day in August, 1925.

The Emancipation program will be held at the Opera House, Monday night. The music will be furnished by the Craig Band. The Hon. J. B. White, candidate for Governor, will be the principal speaker. R. J. Watkins and others will speak.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Francis of Hamilton, were called home Friday morning on account of the death of the organist of the First Baptist Church, at Hamilton, the Church of which Rev. Francis is the pastor. They were in attendance at the Western Union Association in this city.

The St. John's A. M. E. Church Sunday School will have a special program at the Sunday School hour Sunday.

BARLING BOMBER IS AGAIN READY TO BE SENT IN AIR

After undergoing repairs for the last eight months at Wilbur Wright Air Depot, Fairfield, the Barling Bomber, world's largest airplane, moved around under its own power for the first time within that time when it was taxied Thursday. The six Liberty motors were ground-tested Thursday.

The ship will probably not be flown until Lieut. Harold R. Harris, chief test pilot at McCook field, Dayton, and the only man who has ever flown the bomber, returns from a thirty day leave of absence, upon which he started this week.

Officers of McCook Field intimated Thursday that the Barling might bring about some radical changes in the uses of airplane motors. It was admitted that work is now under way which might lead to the eventual feat of having all six motors of the giant craft working on the same crankshaft, the ship being flown with one huge propeller.

Tests are now being made in two Liberty motors, which are operating on one crank shaft. Should these tests warrant, it was said additional engines would be hooked onto the crankshaft.

This, the officers point out, is the ideal power plant arrangement, since it reduces danger of forced landing to a minimum, cuts down frontal wind resistance and concentrates the power.

One or two of the motors could be disabled and the remaining plants would carry the ship without a change in the flight of the plane, they say.

LIGHTNING CAUSES FIRE LOSS OF $200

Loss estimated at $200 was entailed when lightning running in on electrical wires set fire to the home of Mrs. Catherine Summers, colored and her daughter, Miss May Summers, 604 East Second Street at 3:10 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Articles stored in the attic of the house caught fire and half of the roof and one gable-end was destroyed before firemen subdued the flames. Firemen used a powder chemical to extinguish the blaze, this saving possible loss from the use of water on the flames.

The house is a two-story frame structure owned by Miss May Summers. The loss is covered by insurance amounting to $1,000 besides $500 insurance on the contents.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE
Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit a friend and try to break into the movies. She soon gets started, and through the friendship of

LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, gets an engagement with

JOHN SEWARD, "the great lover of the screen," who falls in love with her and asks her to marry him. However, she cares more for French, but is not sure that he cares for her. She has an unfortunate experience with

EIKHORN, one of the big producers, and decides to go back home and give up her career, when French gets her a part in a picture being made in the country by

CARL BANNING. French follows her to the country and proposes to her. Banning persuades her not to be married at once, and French goes back to New York. The star of the production, CRYSTAL MAY, does all that she can to make things unpleasant for Dorothy.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

XLV—AN UNWELCOME OPPORTUNITY.

THAT was all the answer Crystal got, but she knew, of course, that she failed. She was rather sulky about it for a minute, but Gilbert was waiting, and I guess she was afraid that Mr. Banning would carry out his threat and shoot him there alone if she didn't hurry. So finally she shrugged her shoulders and went over to rehearse the love scene.

And then Mrs. Banning had his revenge on Mrs. May. He made that love scene so ardent that it would have done John Seward credit—I can't say more than that!

He rehearsed and rehearsed it. "Hold her tight, Gilbert—really tight, as if you cared more for her than for any one else in the world!" he cried. My thoughts flew to Larry then, and a lump came into my throat. "Press her curls to your lips; tilt her face back and kiss her again. There—that was a good bit—do it again!"

Mrs. May was simply in agony. Here she'd been just about standing over Crystal with a crowbar to keep her away from Gilbert for fear she'd fall in love with him, and now Mr. Banning was fanning the flames, so to speak for all he was worth.

"Her face won't show buried on his shoulders that way!" she remonstrated. "It's outrageous—horrible—the censors will never stand for that!" she wailed, as a final protest. But Mr. Banning, never cracking a smile just went right on with the rehearsal. He kept them at it for half an hour before he shot a foot of film, and by that time Crystal was beaming up into Gilbert's eyes in a way that made her mother purple with rage.

She raved to Mr. Banning about it afterward.

"When Crystal played with Douglas Fairbanks she never did such things!" she raved. "And she's supported all the big stars—played leading lady for many of them—and never has she done such things! The public wants her just a sweet little girl—they don't want to see her do this sort of thing!"

Now, we'd all heard so many

"Kiss her again; that's right, again!"

times about Crystal's playing with Douglas Fairbanks and William S. Hart and all the other men stars that we were heartily sick of it. As a matter of fact, she had played with them—but her name hadn't even appeared in the cast, or else she'd just played children parts. As for the rest of her objections, Mr. Banning soon settled them.

"Crystal is a star now, and must appear in the big climaxes of the story, Mrs. May," he told her. "As for this scene—well, this is a story of boy and girl love, a beautiful, lyrical thing, and I think you'll find that scene will find favor with both the critics and the public."

She turned away then; she knew that she was beaten for the time being, but she sputtered all through luncheon about it.

We had a picnic lunch out in the woods, and it was lots of fun. I liked Phil Cabot awfully well, and he and his wife and Gilbert Gray and I had a gorgeous time together always. Mr. Banning joined us that day, and they all swapped stories of picture making that were enlightening, to say the least.

There was another big scene scheduled for the afternoon, but one of quite a different sort. It was to be a thriller. In it Crystal was to be shown escaping from the villain, with some important papers which had belonged to her father, and which he wanted. He wanted her for himself, too, and she was afraid of him. And she was to run down to the edge of the river, and finally panic-stricken, to jump over the falls.

But Crystal balked.

LABOR LEADERS IN CONFERENCE ON LA FOLLETTE

Expect Candidacy Of Independent Will Be Encouraged.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—Enclosed of the progressive party's candidate—Robert M. La Follette and Burton K. Wheeler, was recommended to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today by the Federation's special non partisan committee.

Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the federation, headed the committee that urged support of the La Follette ticket.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation and James O'Connell also signed the report.

Introduction of the report, followed by an appeal by Gompers for its adoption was the chief business at the initial session of the executive council of members.

The report analyzed fully the platforms adopted by the three major parties, Republican, Democratic and Progressive. The platforms were compared with "labor's demands" which the federation submitted to each of the nation conventions.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor is in session here today to determine which way it will try to throw the organization's national strength in the November elections.

It has been indicated by the various groups on the council board that the candidacy of Senator La Follette will be encouraged either by a straightforward endorsement or by some other means.

The method of sanctioning the La Follette movement so as not to commit labor to any open break with either of the two major parties or pledge itself irrevocably to any party, is the chief question to be fought over by the 11 members of the council, it was said.

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, gave no open intimation as to what decision would be reached except a statement that the federation would "abide by its time-honored policy of nonpartisan action."

La Follette leaders in Washington, however, were given to understand definitely before the council came here that encouragement would be given to his campaign by the assembly of labor leaders.

The La Follette platform comes nearest to blending with the desires of labor, say the leaders, who already have found flaws in the candidacies of Coolidge and Davis. Congressmen and senators running for re-election will, however, be openly endorsed on a nonpartisan basis.

According to word reaching the leaders of the Progressive party at Washington headquarters, endorsement of the La Follette-Wheeler independent presidential ticket will result from the meeting of the executive council of the labor federation here. Sessions of the council will continue for a week or 10 days.

Gompers in his statement said: "The executive council considers candidates and platforms on the basis of their service, past and promised, to the wage earners and the great masses of the people of our country. We shall commit ourselves to no political party as partisans to a party."

FORCED BY FLAMES TO DROP TO DEATH

New York, Aug. 1.—After clinging to the window of a blazing apartment at 102 West 92nd Street, flames finally forced Mrs. Daniel Waugh, wife of the new rector of St. Agnes Episcopal Church, to leap to the street. She was killed instantly.

More than a dozen other persons were injured in the fire.

PERSHING IS BACK AFTER LONG TOUR

Washington, Aug. 1.—General John J. Pershing, chief of staff, of the army, returned to the capital today after an extended tour of Europe, where he inspected the American cemeteries. He will assume his duties at the war department immediately, taking personal charge of plans for the national mobilization next month.

ELKS CONTRIBUTE TO LORAIN RELIEF

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—With the governor's relief commission scheduled for 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when arrangements will be made for the wind up of the campaign for $600,000, announcement was made that the Lorain fund had been swelled $5,000 by the contribution of the Grand Lodge of Elks.

Fell Into Tub of Hot Water.
Newark, O., Aug. 1.—William Frye, aged 34, was scalded to death when he stumbled and fell into a tub of hot water in the Frye home. The lad's screams attracted his mother's attention, who snatched him from the tub. He died shortly afterwards.

JUDGE RULES ALIENISTS MAY GIVE EVIDENCE IN LOEB-LEOPOLD CASE

Decision Launches Battle of Medical Experts After Being Held Up During Long Debate On Subject Of Competency.

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 1.—Judge John Caverly flung wide the door today for a dozen alienists to submit evidence of the "mentak disease" "functional character," which they say afflicts both Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, and is largely responsible for their cool murder of little Bobby Franks.

It is upon the testimony of these alienists that the lawyers defending the two students will seek to save them from the hangman's noose.

After listening for hours and hours to legal wrangling over the admissibility of the alienists' testimony, Judge Caverly ruled that their conclusions could be submitted "for what they are worth."

Under his decision, the psychiatrists will be allowed to testify that Leopold and Loeb are "queer" that they are dreamers, that they have disordered intellects, in short, that they are almost anything short of legally insane. Even the experts will not be permitted to say they are legally insane for the boys confessed and the court accepted their sanity when they pleaded guilty to the murder.

The battle of the alienists delayed more than two days, got under way immediately.

Dr. William A. White, a distinguished psychiatrist of Washington, who is superintendent of the government's biggest insane hospital there, St. Elizabeth's—took the stand at once.

Judge Caverly's decision was given after a half hour's hearing this morning, after State's Attorney Crowe got into action with a short sarcastic speech, in which he charged Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, with trying to make his client appear as "little boys stealing jam, instead of cold blooded murderers."

When Crowe sat down, Judge Caverly leaned back in his chair and said that "under the statutes, the court deems it his duty to hear evidence in mitigation."

"The objection of the state is overruled," said Judge Caverly, "and the witness may proceed."

Chicago, Aug. 1.—A request for "mitigating punishment" for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks was made by Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense.

In his appeal before Justice Caverly, Darrow assailed State's Attorney Robert Crowe. "All that the prosecution has been able to think of is death," said Darrow. "At no time has the state given thought to justice. If I thought that by hanging these boys it would prevent murder in the future, I would say let them hang."

Darrow declared there was not a judge in Cook county who would sentence any man to hang without first looking into his mental condition. He said he made it very plain that youth itself constituted a "mitigating circumstance," and added:

"I know that when a man goes on the bench he is supposed to be more or less blinded; I know that he is supposed to forget all his human experiences. He is supposed to forget that he was a boy; forget how he acted as a boy; forget how he fell down under the burden of human responsibility of life. I know that many judges are like that, but I have the confidence that this court is not like that."

Jacob Franks, father of the 14-year-old murdered schoolboy, listened to Darrow's argument, a faint smile on his face, his head nodding as though in approval, as though he did not want his son's slayers to die on the gallows.

The defense took much courage from the statement of Justice Caverly that a few months ago he had a somewhat similar case and sentenced the slayer to life in prison. The case was that of Sam Rosen, who killed his wife.

Court's Attitude.
"Court could and did appoint an alienist to examine him, and when the court was told the man was not insane and was responsible for his acts, I permitted the plea of guilty to stand and sentenced him to life imprisonment," Justice Caverly pointed out.

Rosen had pleaded guilty and begged for hanging. Justice Caverly appointed an alienist to examine him. The report showed Rosen technically sane, but in a bad physical condition.

Justice Caverly holds he not only has the right, but it is his duty, to hear any evidence dealing with the mental condition of the prisoners.

"We admit the boys committed murder. We admit they are legally sane. But we contend that the court should know the state of mind of the defendants in order to give them a fair sentence." This is the statement of attorneys for the defense in reply to each fresh attack by the state.

"No evidence tending to show the boys are insane can be introduced without throwing the question into the hands of a jury," State's Attorney Crowe holds. "If the boys are insane or partially insane, they can not plead guilty."

The court's reply is that he will not listen to any evidence tending to show insanity, but only to such testimony that deals with a diseased functioning of the mind. Crowe holds that the defense can appeal any sentence imposed by the court not to its liking, while the prosecution can not appeal.

LOVE OF CHILDREN COSTS MAN'S LIFE IN COLUMBUS FIRE

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Funeral arrangements were being made for W. E. Wider, father of seven children whose love for his family cost him his life in the fire which leveled his home early today.

After escorting his wife and his mother to safety, Wider re-entered the inferno into which his home had been transformed to see if three children who were sleeping in an upstairs room, had escaped. They had.

The father was killed a few minutes later when he leaped from an upper floor to the street, landing head first.

Physicians said death was instantaneous.

An investigation was under way to determine the cause for the fire which did $7,000 property damage to the Wider apartment and a confectionary store below.

Mike Debowsky, a fireman, who was overcome while fighting the blaze, had recovered today.

BREAD PRICE IN ENGLAND RAISES

London, Aug. 1.—Sensational rises in the wheat market in the United States have been followed by equal increases in the price of wheat and flour in England. Flour in English markets has jumped 10 shillings a sack since July 1, and a total of 17 shillings since May, causing apprehension throughout the country. The standard four-pound British loaf, already increased from the old 8 penny Monday. To the English farmer wheat growing is profitable for the first time since the war, but to the great majority of the population, the wage earners, the high price of bread means only added strain on the family budget.

Moscow, Aug. 1.—A huge anti-war demonstration took place here today in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of Russia's entrance into the great war.

The executive committee of the communist party issued a manifesto declaring the "bourgeoisie of the world with the aid of the second internationale, is preparing for another war. Carl Radek, of the soviet, commenting upon the allied conference, at London, said:

"The hegemony of capital never appeared in a clearer light than this latest attempt of the bourgeoisie to attempt to solve this problem. It will very likely lead to a new war."

COOLIDGE HAS TARIFF REPORT ON SUGAR PROBE

Action Now Up To President—Inquiry Began In 1923.

Washington, Aug. 1.—President Coolidge has received from the tariff commission its finding in the probe of the sugar tariff.

By direction of President Harding the investigation was begun in March, 1923. The inquiry covered Cuba and other sources of foreign supply. It is said that the finding consists of a majority report, holding the present rate unjustified high, and a minority report, holding that existing duties accurately represent differences in cost of production at home and abroad. It now remains for the president to determine what action shall be taken, for under the law, he alone can make changes in the duties with in a maximum of 50 per cent up or down, and effective 30 days after their proclamation.

Senator La Follette, independent candidate for president, recently charged that representatives of the sugar interests had been working to delay completion of the commission's work. The present sugar rate is 2.20 cents a pound, except on sugar imported from Cuba, which is required to pay only 1.76 cents per pound. The Cuban rate results from a differential allowed that country pursuant to treaty arrangements. These rates compare with 1.68 cents a pound in the Payne-Aldrich law, which carried a rate of 1.35 cents for Cuban sugar and 1.25 cents in the Underwood law, which gave a flat 1-cent a pound duty on imports from Cuba.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced that the navy department welcomed the raising of the question of gun elevation on warships again. He said his department has never agreed with the British claim that gun elevation would be a violation of the treaty. The gun elevation question was first brought up in December, 1922, when President Harding approved a request by the navy department for an appropriation to elevate the fleet's guns, being informed that the navy believed such elevation was necessary to maintain our fleet at the 5-53 ratio. The appropriation was granted by congress, but subsequently set aside by the president at the instance of Secretary Hughes when Great Britain informally protested. Having for the second time raised the contention that such modernization of American fighting ships would be a violation of the Washington arms limitation treaty, Great Britain this time probably will receive a definite statement of this country's views.

Notice to Xenia Telephone Patrons

IN the interest of efficiency in your telephone service, a new system of handling calls from Xenia to the following communities has been inaugurated:

Cedarville	Lebanon	Washington Court House
Dayton	New Burlington	Yellow Springs
Jamestown	Springfield	Wilmington

After August 1st, it will not be necessary for a Xenia subscriber to ask for "long distance" when placing a call to a telephone subscriber in any of the above places. Under the new system, you may give the telephone number of the party in any one of the above communities, with whom you wish to speak, to your local Xenia operator and she will complete the call. In case you do not know the telephone number of the party desired, you can obtain it by asking for the Information Operator, giving her the name and address of the party you wish to call. She will give you the number, and then you may give it to your local operator, who will complete the connection for you.

This new system will make for greater speed in your calls to the towns mentioned above, because it eliminates the necessity of going through long distance. The rates for this service will be the same as the present station-to-station toll rates.

If you have occasion to make frequent calls to any of the above towns, and desire a list of the telephone numbers of the parties with whom you wish to speak, you can obtain it by calling at the Commercial Office of the Telephone Company, 54 West Main Street.

If you desire further information on the new service, it will be gladly furnished.

THE CARE-FREE COLUMN

COPYRIGHT 1924 by C. W. C.

It is hard to believe, yet true, that the hardest task in the home, the work of washing clothes, has been made care-free.

Women are not mechanics and should not be encumbered with the care of a complicated machine, along with the weekly wash.

Things for Women to Consider

Above all a washer should be simple. Free from continual mechanical adjustments. Nothing to watch or bring trouble; nothing to oil or clean, and noiseless and non-vibrating when in operation.

The perfect big copper tub of the Coffield rocks silently on airplane bearings nearly a hundred times a minute, turning over the clothes within the tub many times. Surging suds are forced through each garment, taking every atom of dirt out of the sheer as well as the stouter pieces. The clothes do not come in contact with a single piece of machinery; there is not a thing in the tub but the wash.

For a Few Days Only

The CARE-FREE WASHER

we will give absolutely FREE

24 large packages of

Rinso

This special offer makes it possible for you to get several months' supply of Rinso FREE in addition to becoming the owner of the Nation's favorite clothes washer. Don't delay in taking advantage of it, because

this offer is good only until Saturday

It positively cannot be extended beyond this week. To avoid disappointment phone, write or come in at once. This is an unusual offer, and you owe it to yourself not to delay.

Remember, you do not have to pay one penny until you have first tried the Coffield. We will send a Coffield Washer to your home for demonstration without the slightest cost or obligation to you. You can see for yourself what a magnificent washer it is and how beautifully it washes all the clothes. Then, if you decide to buy, you pay only a few dollars cash and the balance in convenient payments, and you get 24 large packages of Rinso free. Act now!

THE 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS' VIEWS AUGUST FIRST

If the Republican convention at Cleveland did not adopt a formal resolution of respect for the memory of Woodrow Wilson, who had died still more recently than Warren G. Harding, no one will be likely to think that the omission was intentional or significant. Mr. Harding had died in office, while Mr. Wilson was a private citizen. Nevertheless, it would have been a graceful and proper thing if the Republicans at Cleveland had recognized the passing away of an eminent American leader who had served eight years in the presidency. There was hardly a speech of any length in the Democratic convention that did not sound the praises of Wilson and uphold his ideals. He has become, for the Democrats, a leader in the realm of lofty aims for America in its relations with all mankind. When, however, it came to the question of adopting an explicit resolution demanding that the United States should enter the League of Nations—precisely the resolution that Wilson himself would have made the chief one in the entire platform—the convention after a special debate rejected this plank by a vote of 742 1-2 to 353 1-2.

It was not a question—so the argument ran—of the end to be attained, but of the best way to proceed. The convention accepted Wilson's ideal of an international league for the prevention of war, but it was no longer prepared to make a partisan issue out of the demand for our immediate entrance into the present League. Mr. Wilson is not here to urge his views, and Republicans as well as Democrats can afford to estimate his career at its best. Jefferson and Madison saw many things in a way that deeply offended the political conservatism of Hamilton or Marshall. But we are now proud of them all, and have no reason to perpetuate their animosities. The Republicans may well set Roosevelt on a pedestal, and the Democrats do themselves credit in canonizing Wilson, as they long ago made Jefferson a patron saint. It is easy to see now that, if Mr. Wilson had been a little more tactful, and a little less isolated in his habit of reaching determinations, we should have ratified the treaty promptly with a few mild Senate reservations that everybody would by this time have forgotten. But the situation as it was in 1919 will be restudied in days when fair-mindedness prevails over partisanship or prejudice; and then the force as well as the sincerity of Woodrow Wilson's stern demand for the ratification of the treaty will be apparent enough.

MR. HUGHES GOES TO ENGLAND

Secretary Hughes sailed on July 12 in company with a large number of American lawyers who were outward bound for London to attend the annual meeting of the American Bar Association which had decided this year to hold its sessions on the soil of England, from which came our common law, our political principles, and much of our government tradition and mechanism. Two days before he sailed, at a preliminary meeting in Philadelphia, Mr. Hughes was accorded the honor of election as president of the American Bar Association. It was intimated among the diplomats and journalists of Europe that the distinguished American Secretary of State was to come into direct consultation with members of the British Government and other European statesmen regarding the application of the Dawes report and also—probably—regarding a future conference on submarines, gas and aircraft. President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes had been in consultation with General Dawes and others; and undoubtedly the Secretary had sailed with some very definite views as to further American action. Mr. Hughes is a great lawyer, who for some years was a great judge on our highest bench; and he has the gift of thorough analysis and lucid statement that makes him particularly impressive in the treatment of complicated matters. Furthermore he has a rare talent for economic and financial questions.

VOTERS BEWARE OF SOFT MONEY

The country takes for granted the political sanity of President Coolidge and John W. Davis. Their records speak for them. The qualities of their minds are known. Both stand on solid ground; both have demonstrated common sense as well as governing sense. In neither of them, nor in General Dawes, is there any threat to the well-being and prosperity of these United States. That cannot be said of Governor Bryan. His presence on the Democratic ticket is constant reminder of the weird doctrines of Bryanism. His "personal platform," used in his race for renomination for Governor last April, is full of heresies. The Nebraska advocated the nationalization of oil and coal. He opposed what he called the "deflation policy" of the Federal Reserve Bank, and thereby woke the echoes of the ancient "soft-money" and free-silver Bryanism of 1896. The possibility of his succeeding to the presidency is not calculated to soothe the nerves of industry.

GIRLS! WHITER SKIN

WITH LEMON JUICE
The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleacher. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

EIGHTEEN YEARS TO THIS VERY DAY

Eighteen years to this very day Sailed Nellie and I for the Far-Away; Eighteen years from the Port of Youth; Searching the seas for the light of truth; Harboring here for a little while, Now becalmed by a gentle smile, Keeping the course, and losing the way, Eighteen years to this very day. Eighteen years on the sea of life Sailing the good ship Man and Wife; Springs and summers and autumns gold, And the long, harsh days of the winter's cold—All we have weathered and all we've known, Taking from God what winds have wakened, Keeping our love, let come what may, Eighteen years to this very day.

Eighteen years since we cleared from port, Ah, but those eighteen years seem short; Many the dreams and the hopes back then, Many that never will come again, Yet in the hold of our ship we see Many a joy that has come to be, Richer we are than we were, I say, Eighteen years to this very day. Eighteen years we have grieved and smiled, Suffered and lost and been reconciled; Strength we have had for our days of care, Eighteen years to this very day.

top of your double boiler with one tablespoon of juice from a raw onion (to obtain this, put raw onions through a food chopper and catch the juice which drains from it), and also add two tablespoons of butter and the yolks of two eggs well beaten; as it heats, over boiling water, add two cups of sweet milk gradually. Then add one and one-half cups of weak vinegar and stir till thickened again. This may be kept in the refrigerator, covered, for one week. It is an excellent dressing to use on foods which are rich in themselves and which therefore do not need the oil in a French Dressing or in a Mayonnaise Dressing. BACKGROUND

Before the painter begins to touch his soul to his picture he works to get the proper background. The thing that makes a home lovely and attractive is its background. The song of a bird somehow sounds sweeter in a background of thick trees and dense underbrush. And the chance flower, hid away in a clump of weeds or grass, somehow bobs out into the world with more wonder and beauty.

Success and the ability to rise above defeat and from under heavy sorrow, disappointment from a series of setbacks over a term of years, has to do only with strong characters who have a background of courage, belief and vision.

You must put a background into life or else life grows feathery and you become as one lost at sea without chart or compass.

How often must each of us fall into our background, take new heart, establish our position and set out all over again.

Sometimes it is nothing more than the rising strains of youth, like distant music, that fill our imagination and compel us to go on.

And then, again, perhaps the long ago uttered words of some one to whom we believed or who believed in us come back to us to inspire our best afresh.

Training, teaching, hard and bitter experience over the years must be ours until, when the dire hour arrives, we find ourselves equipped for victory.

There is nothing in life more important than background. Without it a man becomes a wanderer and a listless drone.

ARRANGEMENTS BEING COMPLETED FOR THE ANNUAL GREENE COUNTY FAIR WHICH WILL BE STAGED NEXT WEEK, AUGUST 5, 6, 7 AND 8

The outstanding event of the year in county circles, the Greene County Fair, under the auspices of the County Agricultural Society, will be held next week, August 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Annually attempting to rival the preceding year in grandeur and attractions the Fair Board has scheduled many interesting events for this year's exhibition.

All events are scheduled for central standard time. One of the main features of the four day program will be the appearance every afternoon in front of the grandstand, of Shaw's Whippet races, consisting of a trained dog act, featured by whippet races. In addition, White Brothers, comedy acrobats, will appear.

The racing, one of the biggest attractions to patrons of the fair, will be held this year on the three-horse plan. The speed horses will be called each day at 1:30 o'clock, and started at 2 o'clock. C. M. Austin, B. U. Bill and Grant Miller are the members in charge of the department.

The starting judge will be Howard Titus, of South Charleston, O., with H. L. Smith and R. R. Grieve, presiding judges; William Dadds and C. A. Weaver, timers and J. Robert Bryson, clerk of course.

The national trotting rules will govern the races except when modified. The three heat plan race is an event limited to three heat, with money divided after each heat, less ten per cent of the purse, which shall be awarded to the horse standing best in the summary except in the event of three horses each winning a heat. In that event if there are two or more horses eligible to start, they shall go a fourth heat to determine the winner. Should one horse only win a heat and made a dead heat, he shall be declared the winner. If two horses each win a heat and make a dead heat they shall go a fourth heat to determine the winner.

Every heat is a race, and the money is divided after each heat. The entrance fee is ten dollars which is added to the purse and no deduction is made from the money winners. Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Irregular teeth do not "occlude" properly—that is the grinding surfaces do not come together. Hence there is poor mastication of the food, and consequently a lowered power of digestion and assimilation. Hence again, a general deficiency in the development and "tone" of the entire body.

The bones and muscles of the jaws suffer also from this general malnutrition, and the teeth become even more irregular and lacking in their essential salts, as a consequence. The bones that support the teeth do not grow large enough to accommodate all of them in the normal position.

In some cases the jaw bones are so small that many of the teeth cannot find a place to come through at all, and they remain impacted in the jaw giving rise in later life to chronic neuralgias, headaches and many grave nervous and physical disorders.

Such a condition may even give rise to that agonizing condition known to doctors as the "douloureux". This is characterized by a twitching of the facial muscles on the side affected, accompanied by the most terrible pain known to human beings, with possible exception of angina pectoris.

Or it may produce conditions which find their expressions in various reflex actions such as twitching of the muscles and limbs, or even such grave disorders as melancholia.

Again, the normal physiological relations between the mouth and the nose are also affected, causing a profound disturbance in the function of the breathing apparatus, and resulting in the narrowing of the air passages.

This causes mouth breathing. The air enters the lungs improperly warmed, unfiltered and unmoistened. The blood is insufficiently supplied with oxygen. Shoulders become rounded, chest flat, faulty positions in standing and sitting are acquired, resulting in many cases, in spinal curvature.

Most serious of all, the brain does not develop properly, and the mentality of the child suffers.

W. B. BRYSON WELL QUALIFIED FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONER HE IS SEEKING

W. B. Bryson, candidate for Greene County Commissioner, is not only a successful farmer and stock raiser but is an all-around business man, church worker and public spirited citizen.

He was born and reared in Greene County and has always made his home on a farm in this county. He received his early education in the local schools and attended the old Xenia Academy in the days of its prime.

Later he attended Monmouth College, at Monmouth, Ill., and graduated from that institution. He has always been deeply interested in education and has been connected with the township and county board of education for the last twenty-five years. He was one of the first members of the County Board.

He has been three times elected as a member of the State Legislature serving one term under Governor Willis and two terms under Governor Cox. He has the distinction of having had more bills passed under the Democratic administration than any other Republican representative during that term. During his last term in the legislature he was chairman of the County Affairs Committee, a committee that attended to much important legislation, more bills coming before this committee than any other committee in the legislature. He also served as vice president of the Agricultural Committee and as a member of the Highways Committee thus gaining an intimate knowledge of road affairs and other conditions that makes him particularly well fitted to take up the management of local county affairs.

At the present he is president of the Greene County Farm Bureau and prior to its organization was chairman of the Greene County Improvement Association.

Mr. Bryson is an active church worker and is prominent in the work of the United Presbyterian Church. He has served for some time as a member of the Committee for the Organization of United Presbyterian Boards, representing the second synod on this committee. He is a member of the Second United Presbyterian church in this city and in addition to his work in that church has served as superintendent of the non-sectarian Sunday School at Goes Station for over thirty-five years.

Mr. Bryson was chairman of the Finance Committee of the Pittsburgh Assembly of the U. P. Church in 1917, one of the biggest chairmanships in the church governing body.

While in the legislature, Mr. Bryson was always a member of the school and temperance committee and is much interested in the furtherance of the temperance cause.

Few men in the county have been more public spirited or have done more to advance the best interests of Greene County. For many years the fine bred racing stock raised at his Oaklawn farm brought fame to Greene County live stock. He served for many years as a member of the Greene County Fair Board and is well known in Fair circles throughout the state. He is a firm believer in a policy of wise economy in public affairs. He believes in good roads, not in excessively expensive roads for the few, but in good roads for all. His wide and varied interests and his broad experience in public affairs make him unusually well fitted to faithfully serve the best interests of all classes in his administration of the business of the county if elected to the office for which he is a candidate.

I SPENT

Fortunes to win beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper
My mother was rich and ambitious. From my earliest years she urged me to enhance my beauty. She gave me her methods and formulas. Then she took me in a world-search for the newest beauty helps.

Most people know the results. I became a famous beauty, and for many years I remained the rage. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, I still play a beauty's part. I still look a girl of 19.

Since then I have made a few famous beauties everywhere. I have spent fortunes to find all the latest discoveries. So I believe that I now have the greatest beauty helps in existence. And certainly my results seem to prove that.

I have been induced to place these helps at every woman's call. Drug-gists and toilet counters everywhere supply them—the very helps I use. Thus every woman may obtain for a trifle the helps that cost me fortunes.

One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth. Lucile Lan-telme, the famous Parisian beauty, first told me what it did. Now leading beauty experts the world over are advising this great formula.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. So it cleans the depths, then departs. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter come out with it. A woman never knows what a clean skin means until she tries this Facial Youth.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth sells everywhere for 75 cents. Beauty experts charge up to $5 for the same effects.

I shall be glad to send you a small bottle free if you mail this coupon. It will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. My Beauty Book comes with it. Cut out the coupon now.

OHIO BREEDERS OF GUERNSEY CATTLE TO HOLD FIELD DAY

The Annual Field Day and basket picnic of the Ohio Guernsey Breeders' Association is scheduled for August 14, 1924, to be held at Rasmussen Farm, just outside of Mansfield. President W. O. Thompson, of the Ohio State University, Columbus, will be the only speaker. Coming as the head of the greatest university of the state, President Thompson is one of the big men of Ohio. A large number should hear him present the subject of "The Relation of Livestock to Rural Prosperity" as he sees it.

One of the interesting features of the day will be the presentation of two attendance prizes, which are twin bull calves, the dam of which recently sold for $300. The sire is Langwater Horatius, for which the donor of these calves, E. S. Burke, Chagrin Falls, Ohio, paid $16,000. Every person who attends will have a free chance on these calves.

There will be a parade and show of Richland county Guernseys with Prof. C. T. Conklin as judge. The program will begin at 11:00 a.m., with demonstrational judging contests for adults and children. Ribbons will be awarded in these contests and also at the cattle show.

The state association will have a booth at which a feature will be the dispensing, without cost, of Guernsey ice cream cones which will be given by the Richland County Guernsey Association.

The Rasmussen herd consists of more than 90 animals carrying some of the best blood lines of the breed. The farm is one of the show places of the state which visitors will enjoy. All dairymen of the state are invited to attend with their families and friends.

NEW LONG DISTANCE SYSTEM ELIMINATES SPECIAL OPERATOR

A simplified system of handling telephone calls from Xenia to nine communities in this immediate section of the state without going through the usual long distance channels was put into effect for Ohio Bell Telephone Company subscribers Friday, August 1, it is announced by H. W. Cleaver, the company's commercial manager.

No change in rates is involved in the new system. It provides that any Xenia Ohio Bell subscriber may give the local Xenia operator the telephone number of the party desired in any of these nine communities and the call will be put through on special trunk circuits designed for that purpose.

The communities to which this service will extend are: Cedarville, Dayton, Jamestown, Lebanon, New Burlington, Springfield, Washington Court House, Yellow Springs and Wilmington.

If the number of the party in any of these communities is not known to the calling Xenia subscriber, it can be ascertained by asking for "Information." When the "Information" operator is given the name of the party wanted, she will furnish it to the party calling. This number then may be given to the local Xenia operator and the call will be put through in the manner used for a local message.

Elimination of the necessity of going through long distance will mean greater speed and efficiency in handling telephone calls, according to Mr. Cleaver.

"The new system has already been put into effect in a number of cities," said Mr. Cleaver. "The rates will be the same as the present station-to-station toll rates. To those subscribers who have occasion to make frequent calls several parties in the nine communities and desire a list of telephone numbers of those parties, we will be glad to furnish such a list, with any further information desired on the new service, if they will call on the company's commercial office."

"If the operator cannot reach the party called immediately, she will call back the calling Xenia subscriber later, when the party desired is reached. This new service is known as the Two-Number Toll Service, because the calls are placed by number instead of by name. The regular station-to-station toll rates, which are lower than when the subscriber asks for a particular person, apply. Our subscribers will find the Two-Number Toll Service speedy, efficient and inexpensive."

The regular long distance toll operator will handle long distance messages outside of this radius as in the past, according to Mr. Cleaver.

WORLD WAR BEGAN JUST 10 YEARS AGO

The greatest struggle in the world's history began ten years ago Friday, August 1, the World War.

MODISH MITZI—Three Quarter Length Coats

By Jay V. Jay

Eleanor is wearing a new chintz coat. It is banded with plain color linen and it is lined with crepe de chine. It is just as good to wear to the country club as to play ball on the beach in.

Polly is wearing a coat of a plain linen with bands of a gay rich chintz on the collar sleeves and made to form the pockets. There is also a wide band of it repeated at the edge of the coat.

This is a back view of one of the smartest coats on the beach. The style is somewhat on the Chinese order with a poodle collar. The material is a hand blocked linen.

And here comes Mitzi, modish as ever in her coat which is of a hand blocked worsted. It is a loose, wrap style. It looks very smart when it flaps in the wind or when it is fastened around the neck.

BARLING BOMBER IS AGAIN READY TO BE SENT IN AIR

After undergoing repairs for the last eight months at Wilbur Wright Air Depot, Fairfield, the Barling Bomber, world's largest airplane, moved around under its own power for the first time within that time when it was taxied Thursday. The six Liberty motors were ground-tested Thursday.

The ship will probably not be flown until Lieut. Harold E. Harris, chief test pilot at McCook field, Dayton, and the only man who has ever flown the bomber, returns from a thirty day leave of absence, upon which he started this week.

Officers of McCook Field intimated Thursday that the Barling might bring about some radical changes in the uses of airplane motors. It was admitted that work now under way which might lead to the eventual feat of having all six motors of the giant craft working on the same crankshaft, the ship being flown with one huge propeller.

Tests are now being made in two Liberty motors, which are operating on one crank shaft. Should these tests warrant, it was said additional engines would be hooked onto the crankshaft.

This, the officers point out, is the ideal power plant arrangement, since it reduces danger of forced landing to a minimum, cuts down frontal wind resistance and concentrates the power.

One or two of the motors could be disabled and the remaining plants would carry the ship without a change in the flight of the plane, they say.

LIGHTNING CAUSES FIRE LOSS OF $200

Loss estimated at $200 was entailed when lightning running in on electrical wires set fire to the home of Mrs. Catherine Summers, colored and her daughter, Miss May Summers, 604 East Second Street at 3:10 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Articles stored in the attic of the house caught fire and half of the roof and one gable-end was destroyed before firemen subdued the flames. Firemen used a powder chemical to extinguish the blaze, this saving possible loss from the use of water on the flames.

The house is a two-story frame structure owned by Miss May Summers. The losses covered by insurance amounting to $1,000 besides $500 insurance on the contents.

XLV—AN UNWELCOME OPPORTUNITY.

THAT was all the answer Crystal got, but she knew, of course, that she failed. She was rather sulky about it for a minute, but Gilbert was waiting, and I guess she was afraid that Mr. Banning would carry out his threat and shoot him there alone if she didn't hurry. So finally she shrugged her shoulders and went over to rehearse the love scene. And then Mr. Banning had his revenge on Mrs. May. He made that love scene so ardent that it would have done John Seward credit—I can't say more than that! He rehearsed and rehearsed it. "Hold her tight, Gilbert—really tight, as if you cared more for her than for any one else in the world!" he cried. My thoughts flew to Larry then, and a lump came into my throat. "Press her curls to your lips; tilt her face back and kiss her again. There—that was a good bit—do it again!"

Mrs. May was simply in agony. Here she'd been just about standing over Crystal with a crowbar to keep her away from Gilbert for fear she'd fall in love with him, and now Mr. Banning was fanning the flames, so to speak, for all he was worth.

"Her face won't show buried on his shoulders that way!" she remonstrated. "It's outrageous—horrible—the censors will never stand for that!" she waited, as a final protest. But Mr. Banning, never cracking a smile, just went right on with the rehearsal. He kept them at it for half an hour before he shot a foot of film, and by that time Crystal was bearing up into Gilbert's eyes in a way that made her mother purple with rage. She raved to Mr. Banning about it afterward.

"When Crystal played with Douglas Fairbanks she never did such things!" she raved. "And she's supported all the big stars—played leading lady for many of them—and never has she done such things! The public wants her just a sweet little girl—they don't want to see her do this sort of thing!" Now, we'd all heard so many times about Crystal's playing with Douglas Fairbanks and William S. Hart and all the other men stars that we were heartily sick of it. As a matter of fact, she had played with them—but her name hadn't even appeared in the cast, or else she'd just played children parts. As for the rest of her objections, Mr. Banning soon settled them.

"Crystal is a star now, and must appear in the big climaxes of the story," Mrs. May, he told her. "As for this scene—well, this is a story of boy and girl love, a beautiful, idyllic thing, and I think you'll find that scene will find favor with both the critics and the public."

She turned away then; she knew that she was beaten for the time being, but she spluttered all through luncheon about it.

We had a picnic lunch out in the woods, and it was lots of fun. I liked Phil Cabot awfully well, and he and his wife and Gilbert Gray and I had a gorgeous time together always. Mr. Banning joined us that day, and they all swapped stories of picture making that were enlightening, to say the least.

There was another big scene scheduled for the afternoon, but one of quite a different sort. It was to be a thriller. In it Crystal was to be shown escaping from the villain, with some important papers which had belonged to her father, and which he wanted. He wanted her for himself, too, and she was afraid of him. And she was to run down to the edge of the river, and finally panic-stricken, to jump over the falls.

But Crystal balked.

Tomorrow—Death—or Success.
